

Name	CASTELVETRO PIACENTINO
Location	castelvetro-piacentino
Description	Located on the right bank of the river Po, it's much more connected to Cremona than Piacenza; in fact, in Roman times it belonged to Cremona's Municipium. Castelvetro was born as outpost on the remains of medieval fortress known as castrum vetus . The reclaim of the area was started by Nonantola Abbey's monks and was then completed by Chiaravalle's Benedictine friars: the huge banks gave it a typical lombardic aspect. The economy of the area is based upon agriculture, trade and industry.
