

Name	SANTA FRANCA CHAPEL
Location	castell-arquato
Address	Loc. San Lorenzo
Description	The small chapel is historically important because in the past a perennial source of excellent drinking water was in its place. The place was a rest area for pilgrims. Once pilgrimages were over, Santa Franca lost its function, but not completely, because in the 18th century it became a hermits' abode. The building faces a glade, and is surrounded by a little wood. It's a modest rectangular building.
How to get there	To reach the small chapel go along a long path running along the narrow valley after San Lorenzo, a village which is part of Castell'Arquato district.
